

“Learn How to Bank Your Points”

How to Bank Your Points Online in 6 Easy Steps

For some reason, you just aren't going to use all your points this year. Maybe it's been a busy year. Maybe you're saving for a bigger vacation for next year. Whatever your reason, if you aren't using all your points during your current Use Year, it's good to know you've got the option to bank them.

What does that mean, exactly? Banking points is a way of moving them from the current Use Year into the next Use Year, allowing you to use them next year instead of this year (it's a great alternative to letting them expire). Here are a few basic rules about banking points:

1. Points must be banked 120 days or more from the end of your Use Year. If your Use Year begins Jan. 1 every year, then Sept. 1 of the prior year would be your banking deadline.
2. Banked points must be used by the end of the next Use Year or they will expire. It's basically just giving you an extra year to use them.
3. Banked points can only be used to book during the Club Reservation Period.
4. You may only bank points once per Use Year (per membership).
5. Banking is a final transaction — once banked, those points can't be returned to the current Use Year.

Visit the Reservation Options page for more detailed information.

So, how do you bank points online? Just follow these simple steps and you'll have your points banked in no time.

Step 1: Log into your member website, shellvacationsclub.com. If you're reading this article, you've already completed that step, so high five to you.

Step 2: Initiate banking. To do this, look on the left navigation bar for “Bank Points” located in the “Points” section. Clicking “Bank Points” will open the Banking Points form to help you get started and decide how many points to bank.

WELCOME SVC MEMBER!

You are now logged into the Shell Vacations Club website's Members Only section.

We have created your very own Members Only section to help you clearly understand how to make the most of your Shell Vacations Club membership.

We will describe the specific advantages of belonging to a Home Club and the broader benefits you will enjoy through Shell Vacations Club.

We will explain how Shell Vacations Club Points give you the opportunity to vacation exactly the way you choose and show you how to use your points to make reservations:

- Within your Home Club
- Throughout the wider SVC Club
- The worldwide vacation exchange system
- Additional leisure and travel opportunities

Always remember that anytime you have a question, an SVC Member Services Representative is ready to assist you. Simply click Contact Us for more details.

Please take some time to navigate through this members only section by selecting the various menu options to your left and at the top of this page. You can also view the most current Shell Vacations Club directory below.

You've Got Questions? We've Got Answers

We continue to expand our Owner Guide to include new and exciting content including our Vacation Pro Video Series that can be watched anytime. To get started on your Vacation Pro journey click the learn more button below.

Step 3: Fill out the form. Start by selecting the desired Member Number from the dropdown, and then reviewing your points information below. Pay close attention to Use Period, Banking Deadline, and the number of points you have available to bank to next year. Key definitions of all terms are listed on the right side of the page. When ready, enter the number of points you'd like to bank into the text field.

IMPORTANT: Remember, you can only bank once per Use Year so make sure the number of points you're banking is the appropriate amount. Banking points is a final transaction - you can't change it later or borrow banked points.
